Data Analytics Team. This team was tasked with data engineering, data science, and data QA for metrics emitted by the map-making pipeline. Worked on ETL pipelines, metrics definition and refinement, and data quality. Debugged end-to-end company metrics such as "how many miles of map did we make today?". Chased down map-making pipeline engineers to fix broken metrics. Created realistic answers to questions like "are our human map editors getting faster at their job over time?" Rewrote all internal analytics dashboards, using Looker; worked with executives to answer ongoing questions, as well as quickly responding to their ad-hoc queries.
